Fall Leadership Conference

November 4th, 2017
Arizona State University

Goals

Arizona Collegiate DECA is an educational nonprofit organization that plans semi-annual conferences to prepare students for the workforce through case competitions. Your donation would help us with the cost of these conferences. Our goal is to create a lasting partnership with businesses in the Arizona community to provide emerging talent connections to the workforce.

Arizona Collegiate DECA Conferences

Through this international organization students participate in case competitions that revolve around issues businesses face every day. These events fall into the clusters of Marketing and Communications, Business Management and Administration, Hospitality and Tourism, Finance and Accounting, and Entrepreneurship.

Through our semesterly conferences students compete against their peers on how they would handle real life business situations while presenting to an industry professional who gives them feedback on their ideas.

Other portions of DECA conferences include professional development workshops where students learn key skills such as; elevator pitch execution, proper professional etiquette, interview tips, business ethics, etc. These workshops allow students to learn from and network with their peers, and industry professionals.

Arizona Collegiate DECA is also proud to partner with our community and has donated time, and other resources both inside and outside of conferences to charities such as; Muscular Dystrophy Association, The Lion's Camp, and the Tumbleweed Center for Youth Development
